

A most interesting parents' meeting was held Wednesday at the Lincoln school and the pupils of the eighth grade A class were invited to be present. Two able addresses were made, both on the value of a high school education, supplementing the grade work. Principal Eaton of the High school made a most interesting talk to the parents and the young people, and urged that the grades shortly make no delay in entering the High school. Superintendent Christensen supplemented the speech of Mr. Eaton, made some explanations as to the different courses provided.

The following programme on South America was presented by the pupils of the sixth grade at the Webster school on Friday under the direction of Miss Nash: "Life of Simon Bolivar," Ella Beesly; "Paper on Mat," Roselle Davies; "Memory Map of South America," Harry Pincock; "Rio de Janeiro," Margaret Odell; "Animals of South America," Clarence Bowdler; "Customs of South America," Janie Marks; Spanish dance, in costume, Sybil Greary; "Pizarro and the Incas," Violet Free; "Present Affairs in Venezuela," James Mel; "How Coffee Grows," Esther Johnson; "Spanish Fandangos," (mandolin), Letitia Oswald; vocal solo, Ella Beesly; "What We Find in the Amazon Forests," Edwin Hedwin; song by pupils of room 15.

The sewing from the classes at the Grant and Riverside schools is now in place in Superintendent Christensen's office, and the exhibit of sewing work for the first part of the year is complete from the west side schools. The work is most creditable and shows remarkable advancement for the time. The Grant school lost five lessons in the course, yet the work of that school compares favorably with that of other schools.

The patrons of the Longfellow school enjoyed a mothers' meeting during the past week and the following names were presented as officers: Mrs. J. F. Smith, sr., was re-elected as president; Mrs. Peary, elected as vice president; Mrs. Walter, secretary; Mrs. H. J. Foulger, Mrs. Shrimpton and Mrs. Shedd as a general committee. Several musical selections were enjoyed.

Miss Atha Morris arrived in the city yesterday from Minneapolis and will be added tomorrow morning to the teaching corps of the city. Miss Morris will fill the place in the Lincoln school made vacant by Miss Beeson's removal. She will take the pupils of the seventh grade.

Mr. Willard Done, chairman of the house committee on education, delivered a lecture to the pupils of the eighth grade at the Lincoln school last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Done emphasized the value of a high school education and urged the pupils to enter the High school in preference to any other institution.

Lawry Allen, in room 3 at the Summer school, brought a miniature statue of the Goddess of Liberty which he brought while in New York and gave an interesting talk on the origin of the children of Miss Hamilton's room Friday morning.

Pupils of room 5 of the Webster school are deserving of special mention for excellent results in penmanship under Miss McMann's new system.

The visitors of the Longfellow school during this week were Miss Rudy, Mrs. Miles, Mr. Timby, Miss Carson, Mr. Lowell, Mrs. McVey, Mrs. Lottie Foulger, Mr. Sorenson, Mrs. Cushing, Mrs. J. Vernon Smith, Dr. Whitney and Mrs. Odell.

Miss Scholes of the Grant school, who has been staying at St. George for her health, writes that she is now afflicted with rheumatism and will not be back as soon as she expected to. Miss Mott is taking her place.

Some very excellent drawings have been done in Miss McFall's room at the Summer school. The Chinese lanterns were especially good.

The written reviews given in the upper grades of the city schools lately have shown that the new text-books are proving very satisfactory.

Mr. Wetzel is drilling the pupils of the Grant school on a chorus which will probably be given at the Washington's birthday exercises.

Miss Maude Paul of the Webster school took advantage of the storm on Tuesday to have a most interesting nature study lesson on snow.

The teachers and children of the Summer school were glad to see Miss Ulmer back to school Wednesday, after her illness. Mrs. Held substituted for her Tuesday.

Supervisors McMannis and Wetzel were visitors at the Grant last week.

Supervisor Pollock visited the Jackson on Monday.

Mrs. Elliot inspected the drawing at the Summer school Monday.

Mrs. Elliot visited the Webster on Friday.

Mrs. Mabel Y. Held substituted at the Summer school one day during the past week in the place of Miss Ulmer, who was ill.

Mrs. Love took the place of Mrs. Porter at the Riverside school last Tuesday.

Miss Schlon is still at the Washington school in the place of Miss Haller, who is ill with scarlet fever.

Mrs. Stephens did substitute work Thursday and Friday in the place of Miss Mabel Carson.

Miss Eberhardt has been absent the past week and her place has been filled by Mrs. Hahn.

Miss Cozzons, Mr. Jensen and Mr. Tellefson visited the Summer school last week.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The first regular assembly which the East Side High school pupils have enjoyed this year was held Wednesday morning. The programme opened with an instrumental duet, "Poet and Peasant," by Gwendolyn Carlson and Letitia Bushy. Maud Williams then gave very acceptably a piano solo, "Tiania." This was followed by several violin numbers, well rendered, by Roy Williams, accompanied by his sister, Maud Williams. As an encore to the first, a selection from "Carmen," he gave an Andante from a Concerto by Gloterman, followed by a Scherzo by Godard. Dean Eddy then spoke in a very entertaining manner upon points of interest in Rome, describing many of the old ruins, art galleries and churches, which he visited in his recent stay in the Eternal City.

Some good work in composition has been done recently in the art classes. Among the best studies is one in black and white of "A Rainy Day," the work of Frank Young. Another of special merit is a black and white by Lillian Connelly, entitled "Gossip," showing the figures of several old women busily engaged in conversation.

A very good sketch of an Indian head has been modeled recently by Margie Kello.

Next week Miss Teasdale will take up the Venetian school of painters, speaking first of Titian.

Two pleasing water colors have been hanging in the shadow box this week. One, a Roman scene, by an Italian artist, was loaned by Mrs. Orson T. Brown. The other, an "Evening Landscape," painted by an American artist, E. Calne.

Brief talks on current events have been given in Miss Bond's English classes Mondays and Tuesdays for the past two weeks. This work will be continued for some time.

Mr. Sorenson's advanced algebra class has completed the subject of quadratics. In a test on this subject, given Tuesday, very creditable work was done by Hazel Stevens, Annie Parsons, Roland Herman, Owen Bullock and Myron Billings.

This past week Miss Rowe has given two tests to the three beginning Latin classes at the East Side. While the classes did some very good work in these tests, the only perfect paper was that handed in by Luella Overy.

Mrs. Jennings' advanced classes will consider on Monday the motto: "No bludge, and give their interpretation of its meaning.

In Mr. Reese's German classes considerable time is now being given to conversation on topics of common interest.

Mr. Gillilan's psychology class will complete its work at the mid-year.

Some interesting discussions on the subject of heat have been carried on recently by Mr. Raymer's physics classes.

At the mid-year Miss Stokes' physiology class will complete their work and begin the subject of geology.

Mr. Gillilan visited the east side algebra classes on Wednesday.

Mr. Eaton spoke to the eighth grade pupils of the Lincoln school on Wednesday, and the Washington on Friday, on the subject of the High school work and courses. A large number of the parents profited by the opportunity to learn more of this subject.

On Tuesday, in Miss Goddard's scientific and classical divisions of the junior classes, which are now studying Burke's "Speech on Conciliation," a number of talks were given on the English government. In the classical division the talks were given by the pupils of the Latin Party of England, Harold Stephens; "History of the English Parliament," Hazel George; "The Organization of the English Parliament," Earl Rogers; "The English Cabinet," Violet Iverson; "Description of the Houses of Parliament," Ralph Nelden.

An enlarged floor plan of the house of parliament, and a number of photographs, aided in making the talks clear and more interesting. In the scientific division the following talks were given: "Political Parties of England," Walter Brooke; "Origin and Development of the English Parliament," Lisle Haven; "The House of Commons," Earl Fowler; "The English Cabinet," Corydon Higgins; "Description of the Houses of Parliament," Richard Cabell.

These talks were especially helpful for their careful preparation and the interesting manner in which they were given.

With the beginning of the second semester the first mid-year class in English will be divided. Those taking English course will form a separate class, with Miss Corbin as teacher, while the classical and scientific pupils will continue their work with Miss Goddard.

The second mid-year class has been doing some particularly good work in "The Ancient Mariner." Sketches of Coleridge's life were written in class on Tuesday. Those by Pearl Branson and Jessie Harper being worthy of special mention.

Two medals have been offered, one for the senior boys and one for the senior girls, for the best orations on patriotic subjects. The contest will be held on Feb. 20.

Arrangements are now in progress for the senior banquet, to be held Feb. 6, at the Commercial club. The menus and decorations will be in the class colors. It is expected that about seventy-five seniors will be present. No effort is being spared to make the banquet a success in every detail.

The cadets will hold a meeting Monday afternoon to discuss plans for a dance and other matters of business. Captains Le Roy Bourne, Harold Hills, Harry Bero and Paul Nelden have been appointed as committee on arrangements for the coming party.

During the past week Lieutenant Curtis Clawson has been officer of the week, and John Beck, bugler, with Ralph Brown as alternate. For the coming week Captain Harold Hills will be officer of the week.

Earl Smith, who is now with the Smith Lumber company, was a visitor at drill Friday.

A letter received from Lewis Sterling, a former High school student, now in the law department of Stanford university, tells of the good progress he is making in his legal studies.

Arthur Snyder, of the class of 1901, who is now surveying for the Oregon Short Line, visited Miss Stokes' classes this week.

Vere Kane and Marie McCreary, from St. Mary's academy, have enrolled in the commercial course of the freshman year.

The following pupils have been absent this week on account of illness: Ralph Bowdler, Harold Bird, Warren Woodbury, Willard Olson, Everett Foster, Lucy Nichols, Ethel Deane, Green Felt, Will Buswell, Alice Butterworth, Ida Hartwell, Corinne Foster, Marie Rutherford, May Alder, Louise Ure, Edith Helges, Paul Stevenson.

Jennie Gray, Mary Young, Max Adams, Milton Sears, Lucile Morrison, Grace Russell and Frank King resumed their studies this week after an absence of several days.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

Superintendent D. H. Christensen and wife were visitors on Friday afternoon.

Miss Youngberg was out on Thursday on account of sickness.

Honore Cummings addressed the patrons of the public schools of Malad, Ida, last night in place of Professors Allen and Stewart, who could not get away.

State Representatives Merrill and Roberts from Cache county visited the training school on Tuesday in company with Professor Stewart.

W. A. Wetzel has been made director of music in the grades of the school.

Miss Lachmund of the domestic science department was absent on Friday on account of overwork.

Mrs. B. S. Young and Miss Rachel Edwards, who last year was critic teacher of the eighth grade, were visitors at the school on Friday morning. Miss Rose Vimont of the business grade is preparing a booklet on reading for the Brown school of correspondence, and Mr. Cummings is at work on an article on nature study for the same school.

At the meeting of the Parents' club last Friday night, Professor Stewart gave an illustrated talk upon "The Trend Toward a Practical Education."

Mr. Frank B. Stephens presided and Mr. Alfred Best sang.

Misses Cora McKnight, Pearl Durnell, Flora Tripp and Lulu Keate, all of the Grant school, visited on Tuesday to make observation of the construction work.

In the class in special methods, the normal students are receiving some fine work from the critic teachers upon fine work in which they are strong. Miss Vimont, Miss Samson, Miss May and Miss Youngberg each have the class for an hour each week. Miss Vimont is dealing with reading in the lower grades, and with it is correlating spelling, writing and arithmetic.

Miss Youngberg is giving applied number in the first four grades. Principal McKnight says that the material and method of this work is the best he has seen. Miss May is giving instruction on story telling and games, and is dealing with both the pedagogy and the material of this work. Miss Youngberg is giving instruction on morning talks and dramatization.

Mrs. Byron Cummings and Mrs. R. V. Smith were visitors on Thursday.

Professor Stewart and Miss Vimont will go to Price next Friday to conduct the day of institute work. Miss Vimont will give work on reading and the professor will discuss number and geography.

Miss May of the kindergarten department was away from her classes on Friday on account of sickness.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Professor Milton Bennion has organized a Saturday class in ethics for teachers.

R. V. Smith, B. S. '95, and wife, in company of Mrs. Byron Cummings, were visitors at the university on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Smith live in Tucuman, New Mexico.

President C. C. Riser of the student body, in compliance with the motion passed at the meeting of students of a week ago, has appointed a committee to draw up plans by which the students of the school may be managed by the student body instead of by the Athletic association. The committee appointed consists of G. C. Risco, W. Waldo Kingsbury, James Wade, W. W. Evans and Horace Whitney.

The college men held a meeting on Wednesday to discuss the advisability of organizing a college men's club. The idea met with favor, and the following committee was appointed to take steps looking to the organization of such a club: G. C. Risco, R. K. Patterson, E. D. Thomas, W. W. Evans and James Wade.

Louis Van Dam has withdrawn from school to accept a position with Kelly & Co.

Members of the faculty played a game of indoor baseball last Wednesday afternoon in the gymnasium. The teams were captained by Professor Cummings and Mr. Beckstrand. Professor Cummings' team won by a score of 28 to 23.

E. D. Thomas of the Dramatic company reports that the production of "The Amazons" was successful financially as well as artistically.

In a financial way the club has been able to meet all its expenses and remove a debt of $120. Mr. Thomas says that it is not likely that "The Amazons" will be presented in any of the neighboring towns unless possibly at Provo, but that the club will turn its attention to the preparation of another play.

The second year normals have challenged the fourth year class to a game of indoor baseball.

George Brown, captain of last fall's football team, has recovered from his attack of diphtheria. He found himself so far behind his classes and so weakened by his sickness that he has withdrawn from school.

Only the young men of the institution assembled at chapel last Wednesday, and were addressed by Dr. C. F. Wilcox.

The executive committee of the Debating club has resubmitted to the University of Nevada the question for debate, with a slight modification. The question as first sent was, "Resolved, That the public utilities of the United States should be owned and operated by the government."

The Nevada boys asked that the subject be restricted to control by the federal government, but the local students were unwilling to grant the restriction, and have returned the question in the following form: "Resolved, That the public utilities of the United States should be owned and operated by the federal, state or municipal governments."

The boys also ask that, if the subject thus stated does not suit, the Nevada students restate the question to suit themselves and give the local boys the right to choice of side.

Abe Hatch, one of the leading spirits in the band last year, is now engaged in the drug business in Hiber City.

At chapel next Wednesday Mrs. Martha Royle King will sing. Jay E. Johnson and Harold Goff went to Spanish Fork on Friday to visit with friends.

Miss Hattie Whitney has withdrawn from school to accept a position as stenographer in the office of George D. Pyper.

E. R. Morgan, B. S. M. E. '01, was a visitor on Wednesday and Thursday. Messrs. Lee and Adkinson, the Idaho debating team, have had four debates this year, and in two of these have been successful. Just previous to their debate with the local university they met the Agricultural college of Washington and defeated them upon the same question.

W. S. Yard of the freshman class, who has been at St. Mark's hospital for three weeks with scarlet fever, expects to return to school tomorrow.

Will Ray, A. B. '02, was in the halls on Tuesday.

At a meeting of the fourth year normals on Thursday, a class glue club was organized with Ernest Dailey as leader.

The normals, in their manual training work, are making glove boxes from oak wood. They are soon to begin first or scroll sawing. This is the first of this work that has been done in the normal school.

Instructor Beckstrand went to Murray yesterday and took a number of photographs of various parts of the works of the American Refining & Smelting company. The pictures to be used in illustrating the class work in mining engineering.

The Delta Phi on Wednesday will discuss the question, "Resolved, That the cost of reclaiming the arid regions of the west should be by the settlers thereon."

The Zeta Gamma on Friday appointed a committee consisting of J. O. Carter and James Carlson to arrange for a debate with the Lehi Debating club. They also named a committee to arrange for a series of institute debates in the university. The committee consists of W. W. Stevens and E. H. Burgess. The boys are making arrangements for a mock trial in the near future.

At the next session of the senate, its president, Leo Butler, will be impeached for failing to perform his duties as vice president of the United States. Alexander will conduct the prosecution.

The Idaho debate was not successful financially. The expenses were so great in bringing the debaters from the northwestern part of Idaho, that the boys went behind about $100.

The first year students gave a very successful dancing party in the assembly room of the museum building last Friday night.

BRANCH NORMAL NOTES.

It is gratifying to the students to note that a special bill has been introduced in the legislature for the benefit of the school. The need of an appropriation is becoming more apparent every day.

The special class in bookkeeping will not begin until arrangements can be made for rooms in which to carry on the business.

We are pleased to see Miss Hulet at school again. She has been detained since the holidays on account of illness.

Andy Gregerson, a former student, is in school again.

The Normal club met Tuesday evening and carried out an impromptu programme consisting of a short speech from each member.

The students in general history have been notified to choose their subjects for the final paper.

Track work will now be taken up again, the snow having disappeared, leaving the campus in a good condition.

It was announced that Principal Christensen of the St. George schools would give a lecture Saturday evening to the public, but because of his inability to be present, the lecture will be postponed for a week.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The Sorosis society has reorganized with the following officers: Miss Mary Maughan, president; Miss Lydia Stebbins, vice president; Miss Myrtle Barber, secretary; Louisa Thomas, treasurer.

S. W. Riter talked to the students Thursday on practical education.

There are 12 students in the shop work this year, thirty of them being regular college students, while the rest are special students in mechanic arts. Applications have been received from educational institutions in this and other states for college graduates in mechanic arts to take charge of the mechanic arts department of those institutions.

A very interesting programme was rendered by the literary societies at their last conjoint meeting at Saturday evening.

The agricultural students are studying grasses and alfalfa. Considerable library work is being done on alfalfa. The Athletic association will give a ball on Jan. 31 in the college gymnasium.

The new literary society is now under full headway. The following officers were elected at a meeting held on last Tuesday: E. G. Peterson, president; Fred Fyle, vice president; Miss Maud Egbert, secretary; Roy Horner, treasurer; Mr. Kirk, sergeant-at-arms.

The Sorosis society has just finished the "Kentucky Cardinal" and is preparing to study "The Aftermath."

The Law club, at its meeting on Friday, will resolve itself into a court. Fred Frederickson will be tried for forgery. Captain Rich will act as judge, while Leo Stoddard will be the prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Darke of the mechanic arts department is making a roller desk for the directors' office. The department will supply all the offices of the station with similar desks in the near future.

The geological department of the college has received seventy-five lantern slide plates from Mr. A. P. Church, photographer of the Chicago university geological party. These slides represent views taken in the Wasatch range during the past two years.

The summer school circular is out and has been sent to all teachers and educators of the state.

The commercial department has organized into a commercial club to promote the interests of the students of the commercial department.

Miss Moeck is giving examinations in physical culture this week.

A musical recital will be given on Feb. 7, under the auspices of the Athletic association, by Miss Oliver, Mrs. Price and Miss Moeck.

The sophomore girls in domestic science are studying fields in connection with the theory of cooking.

Prof. Clark gives practical lessons in stock judging every afternoon to his classes.

A special winter course in clinics is being given by Professor Merrill on Monday of each week. Horses are brought from all over the valley and examined for ringbone, spavins, etc. Considerable dental work is also done.

A number of bulletins are being prepared by the several members of the staff. The Irrigation bulletin for 1901 has just been finished by Dr. Wildtsoe and will be issued shortly.

The chemical portion of the silk worm investigation has just been finished and the results will be given to the state silk commission in a few days.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system, entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
